Announcement

TORONTO, ONTARIO, November 20, 2025 - SquidSpark Inc. announced that it has become a Microsoft Cloud Solution Provider, expanding its ability to deliver Microsoft 365 licensing, tenant administration, and secure workplace services directly to clients.

Through the CSP model, SquidSpark can help organizations choose the right Microsoft 365 licensing mix, configure tenants correctly from the start, manage subscriptions, and provide ongoing support for security, collaboration, and productivity.

The capability strengthens SquidSpark's Secure Workplace and Data Protection offering, including identity configuration, device management, email and collaboration setup, backup planning, and Copilot adoption readiness.

SquidSpark will integrate CSP services into its broader technology delivery model so clients can combine consulting, implementation, licensing, and support through one accountable partner.

Executive Quotes

"Becoming a Microsoft CSP helps us guide clients to the right licensing choices, reduce unnecessary spend, and support their productivity environment with care after launch."

Frederick Young
Chief Operating Officer, SquidSpark

"This allows us to pair architecture and implementation with day-to-day administration, so clients get a Microsoft 365 environment that is secure, manageable, and ready to grow."

Chun-Hao Chang
Chief Technology Officer, SquidSpark
